THE KAISER ISSUES
HIS PROCLAMATION
TO GERMAN PEOPLEClaims Enemies of the Fatherland Have Dropped Their Masks and Admitted Their Lust for Conquest.

THEIR AIM IS CRUSHING OF GERMANY

Amsterdam, via London, January 13. — (By Associated Press)—The following proclamation by the Emperor to the German people has been officially published in Berlin:

"Our enemies have dropped the mask. After refusing, with stern and hypocritical words of love for peace and humanity, our honest peace offer, they have now, in their reply to the United States, gone beyond that and admitted their lust for conquest.

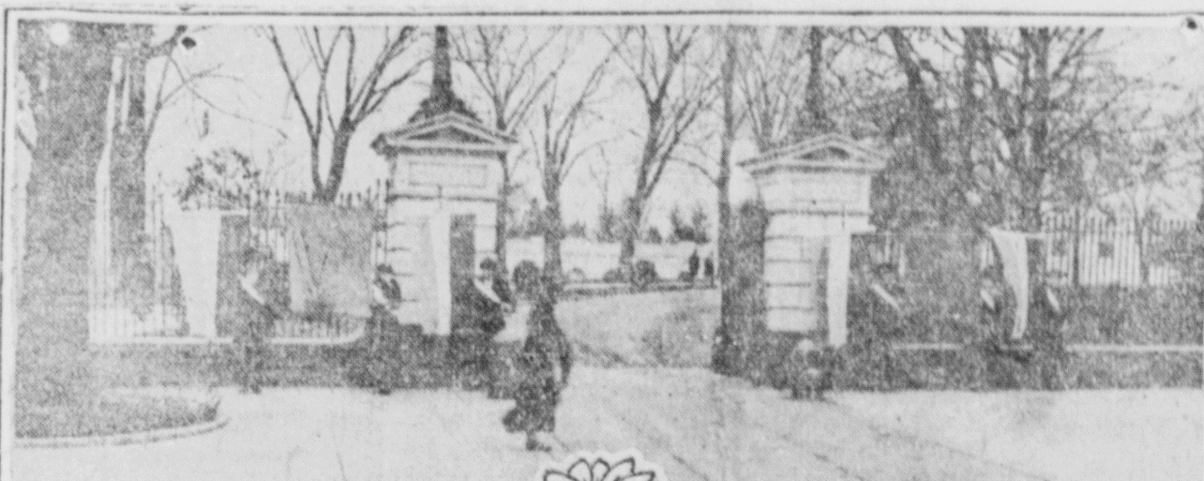

"Their aim is the crushing of Germany, the dismemberment of the powers allied with us, and the enslavement of the freedom of Europe and the seas under the same yoke that Greece, with gnashing teeth, is now enduring.

"But what they could not achieve in thirty months of the bloodiest fighting and unscrupulous economic war, they will also fail to accomplish in the future.

"Our glorious victory and our iron strength of will, with which our fighting people have borne all hardships, guarantee that also in the future our beloved Fatherland has nothing to fear. We are ready for all sacrifice.

"The God who planted His glorious spirit of freedom in the hearts of our brave people will also give us and our allies, tested in battle, the full victory over all the enemy's lust and rage for power.

"TERRIBLE AS AN ARMY WITH BANNERS," SUFFRAGISTS BESIEGE THE WHITE HOUSE

SUFFRAGISTS ASSEMBLED FOR DUTY—AND DOING PICKET SERVICE AT WHITE HOUSE GATE

The White House has been picketed before, but never until now by suffragists. It was placed in the beleaguered state under the new "silent sentinel" campaign begun by the Congressional Union for Woman Suffrage as an outgrowth of the failure of President Wilson to declare in favor of the proposed federal suffrage amendment when he received a delegation of 300 suffragist leaders at the White House.

The first guard mount of the suffrage sentinels marched across historic Lafayette square a few minutes before 9 o'clock in the morn. under command of Miss Mabel Vernon. The detail consisted of six young women. The sergeant of the guard for its first day of picketing was Miss Mary Gertrude Fendall of Baltimore.

Twenty-four suffragists, besides the officer of the day and the sergeant of the guard, were utilized. Twelve were on picket duty in the morning and the others in the afternoon. Six were stationed at each of the two main gateways—east and west—from which the semicircular roadway leads to the main entrance to the White House. Each of the sentinels carried a banner. Two banners of yellow bunting at each gate were inscribed with the words, "Mr. President, What Will You Do For Woman Suffrage?" Flanking each of these banners were two others, displaying the suffrage colors—purple, white and yellow—but bearing no inscriptions.

President Wilson was one of the first to enter the western gate after the sentinels went to their posts. He was returning in a sedan motorcar at 10 o'clock from a game of golf and seemingly ignored the presence of the pickets when he passed them. One of the sentinels when asked whether the president smiled as he passed through the gate, replied:

"Not so that you could notice it. He was utterly oblivious, apparently, of our presence here."

was a blood stained towel, probably used by the murderer when he washed his hands before leaving.

Miss Simon, according to Miss Charlotte Martin, juvenile court probation officer, was 27 years of age and was a member of a respected family who came to Columbus several years ago from Philippi, West Virginia, accompanied by her Sunday school teacher.

Her acquaintance with Wells, the circumstances of their associations, the cause of their fatal struggle, which ended in her death, are subjects of conjecture only.

Wells, according to a Columbus sporting writer, came to this city to confer with Joe Tinker, of Chicago, new owner of the Columbus Baseball Club about a position.

SUSPECT MAKES ADMISSIONS

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Huntington, Indiana, January 13.—Weldon H. Wells, 25 years old, of Kansas City, formerly of Huntington, was arrested here early today and is suspected in connection with the killing of Mona Simon in a room of a Columbus, Ohio, hotel. He is also held on a charge of embezzlement filed at Kansas City.

The police assert that his admissions warrant them in holding Wells, although the prisoner denies that he knows anything of the crime.

Wells, admitted, according to the police, that while in Columbus he stayed at the hotel in which the girl's body was found; and that he registered under the name of Van Brunt.

Chief of Police Baker believes that these admissions are sufficient to hold him for investigation, basing his belief on word from the Columbus police that the girl's body was found in the room which had been occupied by "Van Brunt."

In Wells' suit case Chief Baker found two blood stained handkerchiefs. Stains also were found on the collar the man was wearing, but Wells contends these resulted from a slight cut on the neck.

Stains, which Wells asserts are paint, were found on the sleeve of his undershirt.

After being questioned for two hours, Wells still reiterated his first statement, that he was not in any way concerned in the killing of the woman.

He said he was willing to return to Columbus without requisition papers, according to the police.

INDICTMENT RETURNED

Columbus, January 13.—A charge of murder in the first degree was filed against Weldon H. Wells, former Kansas City broker's clerk, under arrest at Huntington, Indiana, by Sergeant of Detectives Peter Albanese in Municipal Court here today, before leaving for Huntington with requisition papers for the extradition of Wells.

A brother of the murdered girl at Grafton, West Virginia, has instructed a local undertaker to ship the body to West Virginia for burial near her old home, at Philippi.

INROADS ARE MADE

ON ANCRE FRONTS

Russians Lose Another Town Northwest of Braila.

Bulgarian Advance at the Junction of the Bezeu and Sereth.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

BY SHARP ATTACKS NORTH OF THE ANCRE, ON THE SOMME FRONT, THE BRITISH ARE MAKING INROADS UPON THE GERMAN LINES THERE.

Today another attack is reported, Berlin announcing an assault on Serre, resulting in a footing being gained by the British in one advance position, the Germans, however, retaining the main position.

In Roumania, the Teutons continue to gain ground both along the Moldavian west frontier and down the line southwestward to the Danube.

Northwest of Braila, the Russians lost another town when Mihalea was stormed by Turkish troops, who drove part of the garrison into the Sereth, where the men drowned trying to escape, and captured the remainder to the number of four hundred.

Bulgarian forces captured a monastery at the junction of the Buzeu and the Sereth, to the northeast, and on the Moldavian line.

German troops pushed forward in the Slanic Valley, effecting important captures of material.

NO MORE TALK OF PEACE ORDER

By Associated Press Dispatch.

London, January 13.—The Rhine-land members of the German Central Party have declared at a meeting, according to Reuter's Amsterdam correspondent, that there must now be no more talk of peace, but that "we must extort the peace which the enemy would not negotiate."

The dispatch quotes the Vorwaerts as saying that the Entente reply is far from being a peace offer, and that it is, instead, "a new declaration of war with boundless aims."

HUSBAND'S "DRY" VIEWS MAY BAR MRS. BRYAN'S ADDRESS TO SUFFRAGISTS

MRS. WILLIAM J. BRYAN

It was reported from Kansas City that Mrs. William J. Bryan, who had been asked to address the Wisconsin Equal Suffrage convention in Madison on Jan. 17, might be requested not to fill the engagement. Some of the Wisconsin suffragists expressed a desire to have the invitation to Mrs. Bryan withdrawn because her husband is to deliver prohibition addresses in Wisconsin a month after the suffrage convention. They asserted their belief that it would not be well to "tie up the suffrage cause with the prohibition cause." Women temperance workers who are also suffragists, however, were determined that the invitation to Mrs. Bryan should not be withdrawn.

DEATH ANGEL CALLS ANOTHER OLD RESIDENT

T. M. Ustick, One of the Pioneer Residents of City and County, Prominent in Early History, Passes Away at His Home, Oak Lawn.

The beautiful old homestead "Oak Lawn," was shadowed by the death angel at eleven o'clock Saturday morning, when after long weeks of illness Mr. Theodore M. Ustick, widely known older resident of the county answered the eternal summons.

Sad beyond words to record had been the circumstances which preceded the coming of the heavenly messenger.

Mr. Ustick had been taken ill with erysipelas while his home was quarantined during the illness of his grandson Richard Staubus, with scarlet fever. The quarantine had hardly been lifted when his other grandchild little Leontine Staubus, became the victim of the same fever and again the family were shut off from relatives and friends whose sympathy and assistance were so greatly needed. With incomparable bravery and capability the only daughter, Mrs. Regina Staubus, nursed her children back to health and at the same time gave to her father the most devoted care. Every thing was done to bring about recovery, but the severe nature of the disease together with his age of seventy-six years and his previously weakened condition, were beyond the reach of human skill.

In the added loneliness of her isolation, the daughter realized that the peculiarly close relations which had always existed between herself and her father, had been severed and that she and her two young children were alone in their sorrow.

Dr. C. M. Ustick, the only son, living in Kansas City, Mo., had visited his father during his illness, leaving him seemingly much better and hopeful for recovery.

Today the quarantine was lifted and friends are now free to go to the home.

Throughout these weeks of anxiety the sympathy of the community has gone out to the family in large measure and it now overflows especially for the stricken daughter and her little family, who since the death of Mr. Staubus have made the home together and who are now left alone.

Mr. Ustick belonged to one of the pioneer families of the county, being the son of the late Wm. A. Ustick, early settler of Bloomington and one of the large farmers of that section nearly a century ago.

Mr. Ustick was born on the farm and engaged in stock raising and wool buying with his father until after his marriage to Madge Van Daman, daughter of the late J. L. Van Daman, with whom he entered into a business partnership, the store of J. L. Van Daman and Company, the principal general store of Washington for a number of years.

It was due to Mr. Ustick's efforts that this city was first lighted with the old time oil lights. He was at that time a member of the city council and not only pushed the lighting through but gave his personal attention to seeing that it was done.

Mr. Ustick always remained a wool buyer and has engaged in that business for many years having a large business acquaintance.

From his early manhood the deceased had been identified with the First Presbyterian church of this city, and active in its service. For many years he held the position of deacon and gave much practical help to the business interests of the church.

But the life that Mr. Ustick preferred was the quiet, home life and it was in the family circles and among near friends that his kindly genial and unselfish nature was most fully appreciated.

FUNERAL ARRANGEMENTS

Funeral services for T. M. Ustick will be held at the Chapel in the Cemetery at 2 o'clock, Monday afternoon.

The quarantine on the home has been lifted and the entire house fumigated and will be open to friends after 7 o'clock Sunday morning.

DEATH SUMMONS MR. JOHN HARTMAN

Mr. John Hartman, widely known retired farmer and who for many years has been prominent in G. A. R. Circles, passed away at his home on the Waterloo pike at 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon, following a lengthy illness. He was 78 years of age.

Mr. Hartman had been very ill but during the past two or three weeks showed some improvement, but Saturday morning became suddenly worse until death relieved his sufferings.

The deceased leaves three sons; James, of this county; Frank of Tucson, Arizona and Charles, of Springfield, the latter being ill at the present time.

The deceased was a member of the 114th Regiment, Ohio Volunteers and served with honor during the Civil War.

Funeral announcements later.

HOSPITAL WILL BE READY MAY FIRST

Good Headway on District Tuberculosis Hospital Erected at Chillicothe—Brown County to Enter Organization.

Reports made to the Trustees of the District Tuberculosis Hospital, at a recent meeting, indicate that the institution will be ready for use by May 1st as provided in the contract, and that it will be as attractive as originally planned, and will accommodate 40 to 48 persons in addition to the attaches of the institution.

At the present time all of the brick work on the main structure has been completed and all of the sheeting for the roof completed and about one-half of the slate roof laid.

Part of the windows have been placed in position and the work on the floors is well under way.

Not only is the work progressing nicely but another county has asked to become a party to the institution. Brown county is the latest to ask admittance, and this will probably be granted, and that county pay its portion of the assessment. The counties originally uniting to better take care of its tubercular citizens are Fayette, Scioto, Pike, Ross, Jackson and Highland. When Brown county enters the number will be seven.

From time to time cottages will be added to the plant now being erected so that a large number of patients may be accommodated in addition to the two score and more in the main building.

The view from the hospital is a remarkable one, and one may gaze down into the valley below for a distance of seven miles. The air likewise is fresh and pure.

All employees who had been with the firm one year shared in the liberal recognition of their services to the firm.

For years the Dahl-Campbell branch has given its traveling men in annual bonus for good service, but it is the first time that all employees have received such a marked show of the firm's appreciation of their co-operation for the success of the great business institution.

DIVORCE ASKED OF JOHN DAILY

In a divorce action filed in the Probate Court, late Friday evening, Julia A. Daily asks divorce and alimony from John A. Daily, of this city, on the grounds that he has for years failed to provide her and their three children with the common necessities of life or a suitable home. Plaintiff is represented by Rankin & Rankin.

The plaintiff states that they were married April 16, 1894, and have three children living and two dead. The three children living being Charles, 15; Wilbur, 14, and Luther, 13.

Plaintiff charges that on January 1, 1917 the defendant struck her in the face, pulled her hair and kicked her, and that he had previously assaulted her. And in addition to other charges the plaintiff alleges that for more than three years past the defendant has neglected her and the children, failing to provide them with proper food or a proper home, and that the few necessities provided have been of an inferior quality.

That the defendant is abundantly able to supply plaintiff and children with proper food, clothing and home, being worth thousands of dollars.

The defendant has certain real estate, bonds and money in the banks, and asks that a restraining order be issued to prevent him disposing of the realty, etc., that temporary alimony be allowed her for the support of herself and children, and upon final hearing of the action permanent alimony be granted.

The defendant at various times has been before the authorities as result of complaint made that he was not properly supporting his family, and he promised to look after them properly.

AMUSEMENT PLACES LOSE IN FRANCE

(Associated Press Cable.) Paris, January 13.—All the places of amusement in Paris took in 17,000,000 francs less in 1915 than in 1914, and about 44,000,000 francs less than in 1913. The legitimate theaters took in about 8,100,000 francs, which was only 300,000 francs more than the moving picture shows and only a quarter of the receipts of 1913.

The situation of the moving picture houses as compared with theaters is partly accounted for by the fact that they were open throughout the year but there is also a remarkable growth in five years, including two and a half years of war, they have doubled their receipts notwithstanding the fact that the best critics have persistently maintained that their programs were becoming more mediocre every month.

The Cow on the Farm

The creamery business—manufacturing butter, first separating the cream from the milk by machinery—is growing at a marvelously rapid rate all over the land.

For the folks in the cities and towns who love the “good pure country butter” the prospect that soon now good butter making, by the farmer’s wives and daughters, will be a lost art, is not a cheerful one.

However it is stern facts we must reckon with. We must accept conditions and tendencies as they are not as we would like to have them.

The creamery has come to stay and the disposal of the milk by the farmers’ wives with out the work of caring for the cream, churning and marketing the butter has become a general and fixed custom.

It follows therefore that the number of milk cows will increase as the labor of handling the milk decreases and the profit increases. The cow has become one of the main producers on the farm—a chief source of revenue now worthy to take her place in the general business of the farm—and is no longer recognized as a side issue of little or no consequence in casting up the financial reckoning and formulating the business plan of the farm.

Cows nowadays, on the farms are within the efficiency zone and must contribute their part of the grand total of earnings.

Better cows as well as more cows has now become the demand. One of our local farmers and dairy men is authority for the statement that of the cows in this county, which is now rapidly swinging to the line as a milk producing section, thirty-five per cent are profit producers, fifteen per cent just about break even and the remaining fifty per cent are kept at a los and are known to farmers as “boarders.”

The drive now is to get rid of the “boarders” and replace them with producers. The cow on the farm is now an essential part of big business.

Winter Grips Armies

Excepting on the Moldavian frontier the fighting in European war zones seems to have very measurably slackened.

VonMackensen is still pressing relentlessly on in pursuit of the retreating Roumanians and Russians. On the western front winter seems to have laid its icy hand on the great armies confronting each other in battle array and it is unlikely that any extensive offensive movement will be undertaken by either coalition until settled spring weather returns, restoring the roads to passable conditions.

The campaigns of the year 1916 have resulted in gains for the Teutonic allies. The losses suffered on the French and Belgian fronts have been more than offset so far as territory captured is concerned by the gains made in the Balkan campaigns.

It is doubtful if the result of all the awful fighting of the past year will exert any considerable influence toward the final end. The gains and losses have been inconsequential so far as determinative results are concerned and the winter lull in the fighting finds the combatants just about as they were two years ago save for the awful loss of life and treasure which each have sustained.

While the military leaders prepare for a “spring drive” advocates of peace should drive for peace.

And Yet—

We find people in Washington who sincerely believe, even in the face of the unnecessary destruction of valuable property by fire on Thursday night, that it is not advisable to change the form of the city government to a plan which centralizes the executive force and responsibility.

When a fire fighting motor truck for which ten thousand dollars of the peoples scant supply of money was spent refuses to move out of its comfortable berth in the “Engine House” when, in the confusion and disorder attachment is made to water plugs more than five hundred feet farther away from the flames than there was any need of, when the supply of hose taken to the fire proves insufficient and when on the return trip the short lines of good hose are crossed by the fire fighters with a heavy wagon, all the time the taxpayers property goes up in flames and smoke and so on and so forth for quality, doesn’t it seem like the time for a change had come?

If any citizen of Washington has any doubt about the insufficiency of the present plan of city government let him start out to ascertain who is responsible for the bungling work of Thursday night and to locate the official who can prevent a recurrence of the same conditions.

People should not be hasty in blaming employees. They are handicapped and confused by lack of a responsible directing hand and their omissions result more from the fault of the system than from their own negligence or incompetence.

How long would or could any private corporation, without a limitless bank account exist under conditions the effect of which was so pronouncedly in evidence Thursday night?

Is it any wonder, under such a plan that the city’s financial income is so pitifully limited as to make the practice of extravagant economy necessary?

And yet—

Poetry For Today

TRUTH.
Flee from the crowd, and dwell with sooth-fastness,
Still let thy goods suffice, though they
be small;
For hoards bring hate, and climbing
slipperiness,
The crowd brings envy, wealth can blind us all;
Desire no more than doth to thee be-
fall;
Do well thyself, who other folks
would’st lead;
And Truth shall work deliverance indeed.
Essay not all that’s crooked to redress
In trust on her that turneth as a ball;
Great leisure lies in little business;
And eke beware to kick against an awl;
Strive not as did the pitcher with the wall,
Subdue thyself, who blamest other’s
deed;
And Truth shall work deliverance indeed.
Whate’er is sent, accept with cheerfulness;
The wrestling for this world oft brings
fall;
No home is here, nor aught but wider-ness;
Forth, pilgrims, forth; Forth, creature,
from thy stall!
Look up, behold thy home; thank God for all;
The highway keep, and let thy spirit
lead;
And Truth shall work deliverance indeed.
—Chaucer.

WALLOP HANDED TO WILMINGTON IN LIVELY GAME

Washington Hi Defeats "Invincibles" on Their Own Floor in Scrappy Game Last Night—Score 25 to 18.

For the first time in the history of interscholastic contests between Wilmington and Washington, the locals defeated their opponents on their own floor in one of the fastest and cleanest games ever played by the two teams. The last half was a contest between two evenly matched teams and neither team having the advantage.

In the first half Slagle led the scoring with three field goals, and Willis two. Gregg shot three foul goals out of six attempts. Only two baskets were made off the Washington guards the first half, made by McKay. Burnett and Lloyd held their men during the entire game and showed that this combination is the best one turned out by the local school in recent years. Hunnicut made the other basket in the first half. Score 13 to 6.

During this half the teams played even. Slagle and Willis each scored two and Lloyd the other. Gregg shot two foul goals. Starbuck, who was substituted for McKay scored two baskets, while Wendell and Hunnicut each had one to their credit. Wendell scored three and McKay one in the foul shooting. Score 12 to 12.

No game will be played on the local floor with Wilmington this season. The next game will be played with Chillicothe on their floor.

KING OF GREECE CALLS PHYSICIANS

London, January 13.—Two physicians for whom Greece has asked a safe conduct from the Entente Powers are the same ones who visited King Constantine a year ago—Professor Friedrich Kraus of Berlin, and Professor Anton Eiselenberg director of the Vienna Surgical Clinic. It is supposed that the fistula in the King's chest, the result of pneumonia some years ago, is again giving trouble.

The occasion of their last visit was an alarming rise in temperature from the same cause, which did not however, seriously affect the royal patient's general health.

MORE SPACE FOR HERALD PUB. CO.

Heavy Demands on Job Department Create Necessity for More Room and Additional Equipment—Entire First Floor Will Be Occupied.

Increased demands on the job department of The Herald Publishing Company make it necessary for the occupation of 800 additional square feet in the Herald building on South Fayette street.

Originally it was believed that with offices in the front of the south half of the building and the huge room in the rear for the mechanical department, that the large front room on the north side would be for rent, but the job business increasing in volume each week has made it necessary for the occupation of the additional space.

Already one new Chandler & Price job press has been added to the job equipment formerly carried, and a cylinder press will be installed increasing capacity so that all work can be done with rapidity and in proper manner, insuring prompt service and the highest class of work.

The additional room will be utilized for manager of the job department; as a stock room and for the cylinder press.

Within a short time the job department will be complete and in position to turn out several times as much work as at the present time.

With the additional room The Herald Publishing Company will occupy the entire first floor of the new Herald building, and be in a much better position to meet the growing demands for prompt service and tip-top work in the job line.

PEACE TALK HAS LITTLE EFFECT ON MEN IN TRENCHES

With the British Armies in trenches (Correspondent Associated Press)—

Peace conversations and peace notes however much of a flurry they may cause in the capitals of the world, have no effect upon the British armies. The work of war progresses, and one of the first impressions the visitor gets on a tour behind the British lines in France is the absolute permanence and thoroughness of the British war machine. There is no flimsy construction anywhere. It is as if the English were preparing to fight through countless years to come if necessary.

While built primarily for war efficiency, the telephone and telegraph lines, the railways and the motor highways English have put into France will be left here when the war is over as a permanent legacy. The war railways will in effect be an offset to the so-called strategic railways of the Germans, and will enable France to develop her northern country far more rapidly than otherwise would have been possible. Already the telephone and telegraph lines are linked up with the French officials systems and represent a permanent extension of those facilities.

The telephone has played a wonderful part in the war. When a Canadian battalion made a daylight raid on 400 yards of German trenches a few days ago, each company commander in the raid had a telephone with him as he went into action, the signal men in charge unrolling the wires as they pressed forward. The instruments were connected with battalion headquarters back in a first line English dugout and there was not a moment during the offensive that the contact was not complete. Through the various telephonic links leading from battalion headquarters to brigade headquarters and thence across the English Channel, it would have been possible, if so desired, for the company commanders in the thick of the actual hand to hand fighting to talk direct from a German trench to the War Office in London.

The trunk telephone lines erected by the British along the main highways to the war represent the latest improvement of equipment. At some points there are as many as thirty wires on a single line of poles, with a second line of sixteen wires being strung. From the peaceful, pastoral scenes of non-invaded France out toward the battle line the wires reach in ever diminishing numbers until at last only a few strans may be laid along the ground—across that stretch of mud and shell shattered desolation representing the gains of some recent "push."

CARRANZA NOW HAS VERY FEW EXPORTS

(By Associated Press Dispatch.)

El Paso, Texas, January 13.—Export duties on sisal fibre from Yucatan and on crude oil from Tampico are the chief sources of income of the Carranza government, according to a financier just out of Mexico. Owing to reduced importation the ordinary customs are a minor source, he explains, while the suspension of the work in the mines and factories and the unprosperous condition of the ranches has materially reduced the amount received in taxes.

Mines and factories have suffered in some parts directly from bandits and rebels, but everywhere from lack of chemicals and other materials for which Mexico had formerly depended on Europe. Currency troubles and lack of sufficient coin to do business with, have further had a depressing effect.

A decree issued by First Chief Carranza calling on all banks to liquidate will clean up a number of insolvents. As the banks in Mexico are almost all run by British and French capital, this should give the banking interests of the United States an opportunity to get a foothold in Mexico when its government is put on a basis capable of attracting investors, he declared.

ADVERSE COMMENT ON SWIMMING POOL

(Associated Press Cable.)

Douglas, Isle of Man, January 13.—There has been sarcastic comment in the British newspapers about the huge swimming pool and luxuriously equipped gymnasium which the government provides for its war prisoners at the Cunningham Camp. The pool is about a hundred feet long and is housed in an ornate building of gaudy stucco, and the gymnasium is as large and as well equipped as that at Yale University.

Cunningham Camp, before it was taken over for prisoners was a summer school and recreation camp for English schoolboys. The swimming pool and gymnasium were retained, and have naturally proved popular features with the prisoners. With a few exceptions, every man in the camp visits the swimming pool at least once a week. The average daily attendance at the gymnasium is over a thousand.

HOLLINGSWORTH WANTS ACTION

Calls Back His Resolution For Embargo on Arms Shipments.

Washington, Jan. 13.—Following on the heels of the allies' reply to President Wilson's peace note, Representative D. A. Hollingsworth of Ohio entered a motion to discharge the house committee on interstate and foreign commerce from further consideration of his bill prohibiting the export of firearms and munitions of war, in order to bring that resolution before the house for a vote. Believing that the allies' reply forecasts a renewal of war in Europe on a fiercer and bloodier scale than ever, Representative Hollingsworth is determined to put to a test in congress the question as to whether the United States shall take the responsibility for aiding in the continuance of the European war through the exportation of munitions.

Guardsmen Refuse to Drill.
Baltimore, Jan. 13.—Warrants have been issued for 110 members of the Fourth Maryland for nonattendance at drills. The men say they came back barely in time to save their jobs, and that as they spend their time at drills they risk these. Further, a number are threatening to resign by asking for discharge because the pay the government promised them for attending drills has not been forthcoming.

CO-ED IS DEFENDANT

Ohio Woman Files Alienation Suit, Asking For $50,000.

Columbus, Jan. 13.—Mrs. Shirley Harris of Hiram, O., filed a $50,000 alienation suit against Miss Blanche Strobel, twenty-one, special art student at Ohio State University. Miss Strobel's home is at New Vienna, Clinton county. Mrs. Harris, who is a social leader in Hiram, charges Miss Strobel stole the affections of her husband, Robert Watchorn Harris, now working in Canada. She charges Miss Strobel and Harris with meeting clandestinely since June, 1915, at Cleveland and Buffalo hotels. Miss Strobel stoutly denies Mrs. Harris' charges. "I'm innocent of the charges," she said. "I kept company with Harris for two months, but I thought he was single. He told me he was."

Buffalo Bill's Estate.

Denver, Colo., Jan. 13.—The estate of Colonel William F. Cody, who died here Wednesday, was estimated by Judge W. L. Wall, for years Colonel Cody's attorney, at not to exceed $65,000. It consists in the main of three ranches near Cody, Wyo., and an equity in a hotel in that town.

Washington, Jan. 13.—Major General Franklin Bell, chief army commander of the department of the west, in San Francisco, took up with Secretary of War Baker the question of sending troops into Mexico to search for Colonel Harry B. Bishop and Lieutenant W. A. Robertson, the two missing army aviators lost in Mexico since Wednesday.

HIGH SCHOOL NIGHT AT THE TABERNACLE

Large Audience Cheers Great Crowd of High School Pupils as They March Into Tabernacle—Evangelist Hits Straight From the Shoulder in Appeal to Sinners.

Deep interest, spirited singing, a strong sermon, large crowd and the high school pupils combined to make Friday night's service at the tabernacle one of the most memorable of all the Bromley meetings held up to the present time.

The entire central section had been reserved for the high school students, and by the time they arrived, headed by a drum corps, the remainder of the tabernacle was filled. It was an inspiring spectacle as the scores of bright faced boys and girls, upon whom rests, to a large extent, the future of Washington, marched into the tabernacle and standing atop the benches, sang with spirit their songs. The audience burst into a storm of applause lasting several minutes. Miss Sheen led the pupils in singing.

The tabernacle had been appropriately decorated in the class colors of blue and white, and large placards of blue and white were carried at the head of each division. The boys wore blue ties and the girls wore bands of blue and white about their heads.

Dr. Bromley extended a welcome to the pupils, stating that in the last ten years he had never beheld a brighter looking bunch of youngsters. This brought forth a series of class yell; given with a will, for Dr. Bromley and others of the Bromley party.

As the last of the yells died away Dr. Bromley, among other remarks said: "Now I expect some of you women back there are ready to faint—well, just faint." No one fainted.

Back of the pupils and teachers (undiscovered by Dr. Bromley) was that jolly bunch of jokers known as the "Tin Horn Bunch" of the Dutch Treat Club—twelve in number, who attended in a body.

"Rose of Sharon" was the theme of a beautiful solo by Prof. Myers whose singing is one of the features of the meetings.

Dr. Shadduck explained that certain rumors had been circulated that Dr. Bromley had been guaranteed $10,000 for holding the meetings here, and explained that he had not been guaranteed a cent; that the nightly collections were for the expenses only.

Dr. J. C. Jackson, Supt. of the M. E. Church, Chillicothe District, offered prayer.

Dr. Bromley then launched his sermon, choosing Daniel as the hero of his theme. The sermon was interspersed with many puns which drew forth many a laugh.

In part Dr. Bromley said: "Moral weakness is one of the worst things in the universe."

"Some men are courteous in commercial circles and like coyotes at home."

"Some men can stand up before the cannon's blaze and wilt before the gaze of some fool woman."

"The highest product of religion is manhood and womanhood."

"You can't win out on things of policy. It must be on things of character. You have heard it said that 'honesty is the best policy,' but I say unto you that honesty is right whether it is policy or not. Policy is not always right."

"Daniel knew that harm would do him wrong, no difference how it was dressed."

"Young man and young woman, cultivate a good conscience—talk with your conscience and when tempted seek the counsel of your conscience and abide by what it tells you; it will keep you out of trouble. Develop character."

"Character is what you are and what God knows you to be. Your character should be what your reputation is, and your reputation should be right."

"Give me a few more men like Martin Luther and we will clean up the world."

"A multitude of people today pay too much attention to what others might say."

"There are real elements of manhood and womanhood in they who stand by their religion."

"I am not a Democrat; I am not a Republican. I am for the man and party I believe to be right."

"I don't believe in letting the majority rule unless the majority is right."

"If the question of saloons or no saloons is put up to the Ohio people without 'home rule' or other such tomfoolery, Ohio will go overwhelmingly dry. The boys and girls would put it dry. The women would put it dry."

"Bryan says by the grace of God we're going to shove the hand of the whiskey gang off of the Democratic party. And if the Democrats insert the dry plank and the Republicans do not, they will win; if the Republicans insert the dry plank and the Democrats do not, the Republicans will win. Mark my words."

"The world likes a man who can stand up boldly for what is right. Give me men who will stand by their convictions."

"If our public officials stand up for the laws, the law violator will quickly fall into line when he knows the public officials mean business."

"God requires you to obey him above all others."

"It is a strange thing, but some women will walk 17 squares to a bargain sale, wearing out a whole lot of shoe leather to save one cent on some article."

"We need people who, sitting back in the audience, instead of saying 'Amen' say 'Ugh! that hit me!'"

"The trouble with a lot of us is that we want the preacher to take the hide off the other fellow."

"Say—some of you church men! do you keep your religion when you go to Cincinnati or Columbus. Too many of you are like putty—you are easily moulded or influenced."

"I'd like to see the two senators from Ohio carry their religion with them when they go to Congress."

"Do away from home as you do at home."

"I believe in shouting; but I also believe in living just as high as you shout, and if you are going to shout around this meeting and don't live as high, I'll puncture your balloon in a whoop!"

"God intended for us to have a good time or he wouldn't have made so many funny people."

"You give me the boy or girl who sticks by the right and I'll show you a boy or girl who will win out."

"Boys and girls; men and women; on which side of the scale is your manhood and womanhood?"

CAMPAIGN NOTES.

There was a meeting of the boys and girls of Washington Court House held this afternoon at the Tabernacle and Prof. Myers delivered an address to them, illustrating it profusely. This was the first children's mass meeting held at the tabernacle.

This evening the children's chorus will sing at the tabernacle and will occupy the seats on the platform, the senior choir will be seated in the audience.

Dr. Shadduck of the Bromley party goes to Good Hope where he will preach in the morning. Dr. Shadduck is the preliminary organizer of the party, and his work in Washington is nearing completion. He has tied the preliminary strings to the party pretty well and in a few days he will start for the next field of labor which is Dayton.

Miss Dora L. Cain, a member of the Bromley party who has not been on the field as yet, is expected to arrive in Washington about the 22nd of this month and will assist Miss Ditzell and Mrs. Bromley in the woman's work. Miss Cain is a forceful and a convincing speaker and will likely address several of the mass meetings for women during the closing days of the campaign.

Following is the program:

Each leader will furnish his own pianist and chorister. The meetings are to last one hour. People are invited to come to the tabernacle at any time and leave at any time. Feel free to come and leave when you please. No more than five minutes should elapse between one meeting and another.

FLETCHER TO GO TO MEXICO

President Wilson Adopts New Mexican Policy.
WILL WITHDRAW TROOPS

Session in New York Monday of the Mexican-American Commission is likely to be the last, as further Parleys Would Be Useless—Pershing's Men in Poor Position and Would Be More Useful On Border.

Washington, Jan. 13.—The next move to be made by this government in dealing with the de facto government of Mexico has been decided on by President Wilson. The plan will be announced after the meeting in New York Monday of the Mexican-American joint commission.

Withdrawal of the Pershing expedition across the American border and the sending of Ambassador Fletcher to Mexico City are understood to be the first steps that will be taken.

Secretary Lane and the other members of the American commission, Dr. J. R. Mott and Judge George Gray, will meet Carranza's representatives in New York Monday in what is expected to be the final session of the joint commission. Already the American commissioners have informed the Mexicans that in view of Carranza's repeated refusal to ratify the protocol signed at Atlantic City after almost three months' deliberation, they regard further conferences as useless. Their attitude is approved by the president.

When negotiations looking to a settlement of other questions are resumed through regular diplomatic channels or otherwise, one of the first questions to be urged by the Mexicans will be in regard to the embargo on arms and ammunition. Carranza has protested against the refusal to permit him to receive from the United States the means of fighting his enemies, but the position of the administration has been that supplies intended for his forces have found their way too easily into the hands of bandit forces.

In determining to withdraw Pershing, the administration is understood to have been influenced chiefly by the unanimous belief of army officials that the troops are in a poor strategic position and would be of more service in protecting the border if brought back to the American side to relieve national guardsmen now held there. Notice already has been given of the intention of the United States to send other expeditions into Mexico whenever the operations of lawless forces on that side make it necessary.

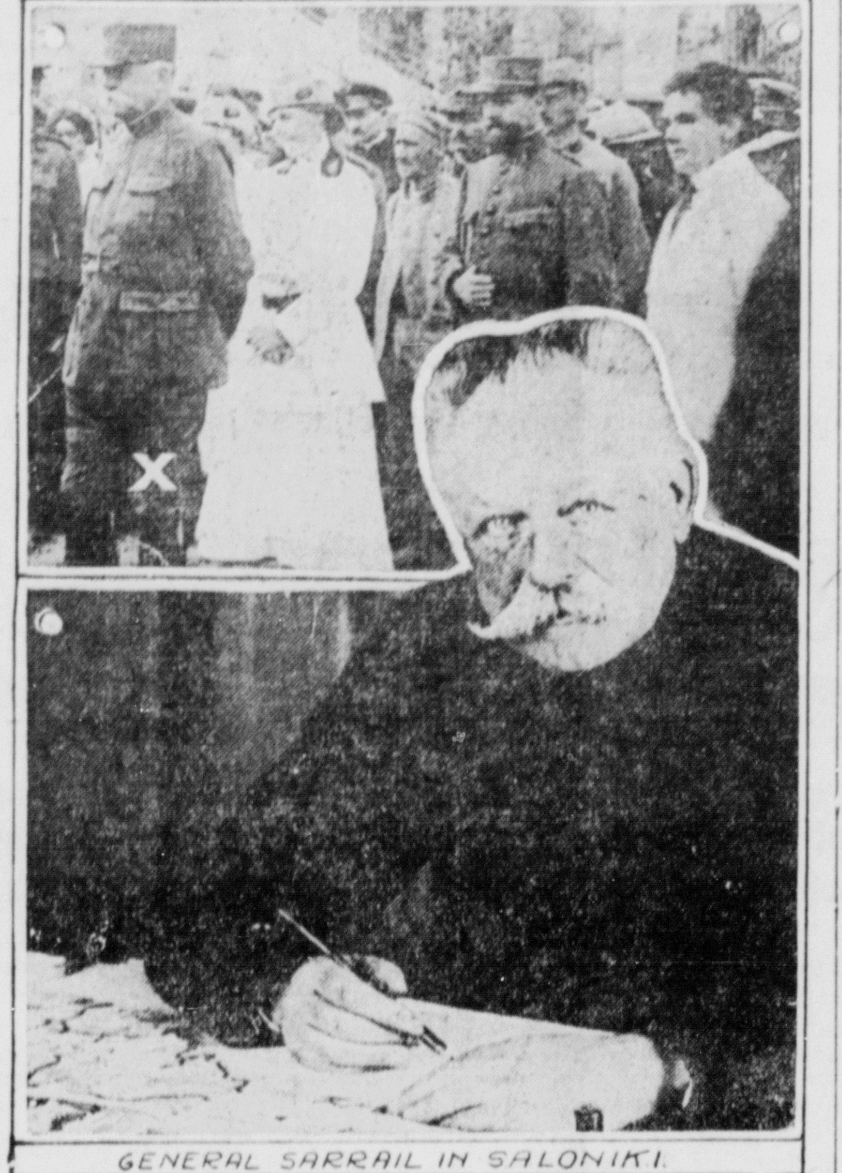

GIGANTIC CONSPIRACY DISCLOSED BY LIST
(By American Press)

Chicago, Jan. 13.—One hundred names of policemen and politicians are on a "list of dishonor," which State's Attorney Maclay Hoyne will submit to the grand jury as those of men alleged to have engineered a gigantic plot to sell Chicago to grafters and vice masters. Hoyne also announced that from three women of the underworld, long familiar with its workings here, he had obtained confessions that they had paid tribute to the "vice trust" for protection. The women, taken when they appeared in morals court following raids on their places, resisted the questioning of the state's attorney for hours, but broke down when it was proved to them that three of the ringleaders in the plot had confessed, he said.

Move on Sarraïl at Saloniki May Follow Roumanian Campaign

"Without even hinting at the relative probabilities or the time I am able to mention the following offensive possibilities that are being talked about," says the Berlin correspondent of the New York Times.

"An offensive against Sarraïl, for which the prospects of a crushing victory would be bright, it is held because ample veteran troops, at top of form after their Roumanian victories, are available and near at hand it is regarded as an attractive proposition because it would keep the whole Bulgarian army fully engaged in operations likely to increase their fighting enthusiasm while likely also to bring Greece into the central power's camp.

"Another fascinating possibility is a great offensive through Galicia and Bessarabia against the general Kiev-Odessa line, for which troops already on the ground could easily be released and the conquest of Russia's grain area would solve the central powers' food problem.

"Yet another possibility would be an offensive in Courland and Lithuania against Petrograd whose capture is thought would incline Russia to separate peace. There are still their attractive possibilities, such as an offensive against Italy or on the west front.

FIRE FOLLOWS EXPLOSION

San Francisco, Jan. 13.—Alexander Berkman, editor of The Blast, an anarchist publication, and seven others prominent in labor circles here, were charged with having directed a conspiracy to assassinate Senator-elect Hiram W. Johnson, blow up the state house and to overthrow the government. Those who were alleged to be associated with Berkman include Miss M. E. Fitzgerald, his secretary, Robert Minor, treasurer for the International Workers' Defense league, Thomas J. Mooney, labor organizer and four others who now are on trial with him for murder in connection with the bomb explosion that killed participants in the preparedness parade here last July.

The charges were made by Assistant District Attorney Edward A. Cunha during the Mooney trial. He declared that proof of his charges was contained in letters and papers seized in a recent raid on the offices of The Blast.

YOUNG MAN HELD AT HUNTINGTON

Accused of Murder of Girl in a Columbus Hotel.

Columbus, Jan. 13.—Weldon H. Wells, twenty-five, former clerk in a Kansas City commission house, has been placed under arrest at Huntington, Ind., as the result of the finding of the dead body of a girl two years older than he in a room at the Deshler hotel. She had been shot some hours before and lay in a pool of blood on the floor of the room which had been engaged by a man who registered as "G. V. Van Brunt, Chicago." Van Brunt is said to be the name assumed by Wells.

The dead girl is Mona Byron Shanon, who came here from her home at Philippi, W. Va., in 1912, and for a year acted as telephone operator at the Virginia hotel. She was a member of a respected family and is said to have accompanied her Sunday school teacher to Columbus. City life proved her undoing and a downward career developed amazingly fast. Out of the workhouse only two weeks ago she became acquainted with Wells presumably after his arrival here Tuesday. The circumstances of the fatal association and the cause of the fatal struggle which ended in her death are subjects of conjecture only.

Shook.
Molly—You say you shook all over when you proposed to her? Cholly—Yes, I did. Molly—And how about the girl? Cholly—Oh, she only shook her head.
